PUTIN HAS THE GOODS ON TRUMP

By Lanny Swerdlow

President Trump's continuing genuflection to Russian President Vladimir Putin is so beyond-the-pale that even his most ardent supporters are having difficulty explaining it. House Democratic leader Nancy Pelosi has stated "the Russians have something on the President." This explanation that Putin has some thing or some things on Trump has always been simmering on the back burner. Maybe it is time to bring it to the front burner. WARNING: This story contains graphic language that some may find offensive.

The Chair's Corner

By Steve Ruth

Chair, Riverside County Democratic Party

A little nostalgia for this month's "Chair" photo - remembering when we had a president who deserved sitting in that chair, at that desk, in that office, in the People's House.

June Primary Results

It's been an exciting month. After all the ballots have been received and counted the overall turnout in Riverside County for the June Primary exceeded expectations – approximately 35%- which far outpaced our 2014 primary voter turnout of 22%. READ MORE CLICK HERE

AMERICAN GENOCIDE

Part Two

The California Holocaust

By Lanny Swerdlow

California

had been the most densely populated area for Native Americans in U.S. territory with over 100 successful, prosperous and healthy tribes throughout the state.

With the conquest of California by Spain, there began an unforgiving and relentless reign of terror for California's natives. Wanting to expropriate Native lands and resources, the Spanish used the Roman Catholic missions to Christianize the Natives while enslaving them.

Founded by Father Junipero Serra in 1769, he set in motion and oversaw the beginnings of the California Holocaust. His elevation to sainthood has been met with widespread protests and petitions to Pope Francis and political leaders demanding the truth be told of the horrors undertaken at the 21 missions. DEMOCRACY IN AMERICA IS COURTING DISASTER

By Henry B. Zimmer, CPA

Senator Feinstein Kinda Sorta Working On It

By Lanny Swerdlow
Reprinted from Marijuananeews.org/blog

As an Executive Board member of the California Democratic Party, I was invited to attend "Breakfast with Diane" where Senator Diane Feinstein spoke about her re-election bid. After representing the Party for 24 years, it was kind of sad to see her at the Executive Board meeting fighting an endorsement battle. READ MORE CLICK HERE

Grand Jury Probe of Fox News Continues Despite Preet. A federal grand jury criminal probe of Fox News Channel's business practices is set to begin soon despite the firing over the weekend of U.S. Attorney PreetBharara by President Donald Trump. READ MORE CLICK HERE

The Dialysis Industry is Putting Profits Over Patients and a California Democratic Party Official is quietly helping them. When the California Democratic Party announced that it would no longer accept contributions from the private prison industry, it was a heartening reversal of pay-to-play politics, but pay-to-play still has a role within the party. Pulitzer-winning reporter David Cay Johnston: "The evidence suggests Trump is a traitor." The saga of President Donald Trump consists of several parallel and intersecting stories. There is the structural dimension. Trump's victory over Hillary Clinton was not entirely unpredictable or shocking. READ MORE CLICK HERE

A special man on the street report!

VOTO MORENA!
LOPEZ OBREDOR'S
STRANGE RIDE

By Bob Warburton

From 1995 until 2006 we owned a condo on an extremely busy 6 lane boulevard in the middle of Mexico City just 4 blocks from the Basilica de Guadalupe. From our 4th floor walk-up perched on the northeast hills we could see half of the Distrito Federal's 10 million inhabitants, and we could tell the general state of the City. At times it was precarious. There was a period in the 90s when the parks were not watered, trash accumulated. there were pot holes in the streets, unemployment was 25%, no one went out at night, and literally the street lamp outside our door was broken at the base and rested against our building still giving faint light.

Then in the year 2000 Andres Manuel Lopez Obrador became our first minority party Mayor, Mexican President Zedillo gave the City the tax monies it was due, and the City improved. People were hired to fix the City, major infrastructure projects were built, and for the first-time people over the age of 65 received Social Security payments. By the end of his term in 2005 the City was much improved, and most people thought he would be the next President.

But he barely lost or was the election stolen? He never conceded. For the next year he traveled Mexico attacking President Calderon and his administration as illegitimate. In 2012 he really lost badly to current President Pena Nieto, and still he said the election was stolen. Shortly he began to fight with his leftist PRD Party and had to create his own MORENA Party. I thought sure he was a goner. However, it is now 2018 and Lopez Obrador won an unprecedented victory July 1st. Not only did he win 53% of the vote with two other major candidates splitting most of the rest of the vote, his MORENA Party won majorities in both legislative houses, something that had never happened since real democracy came to Mexico in the year 2000.

I have several friends in this Country who made special efforts to vote this year to make sure Lopez Obrador won. They are happy that he is the anti-Trump, even though usually most Mexicans since the 1980s have been very pro-American. Now that he has won Lopez Obrador as President of Mexico has numerous problems, many caused by the consumption of illegal drugs in the US.

I will be traveling south of the border to my former haunts in Mexico City next month and hope to report back to you on feelings there.
